

Mrs. Ponte's Weekly Newsletter

Dear Families,

Students will be working on a written essay to support all the research they have completed through the Exhibition process so far. As we end the “research” phase of Exhibition, students will be working less in class and more at home. Thank you for your support.

Learner Profile Trait of the Month:

Knowledgeable

We develop and use conceptual understanding, exploring knowledge across a range of disciplines. We engage with issues and ideas that have local and global significance.

Important Dates

March 6th: Report Cards go home

March 12th: IB Parent Meeting

March 13th: Spring Pictures and 5th Grade Promotion Pictures

March 16th – 20th: SUSD Spring Break

Math News

This week students will have daily homework to review dividing decimals. Please check with your child if they say they have no homework. ☺ Thank you!

Students should continue to work on “My Path” at home as part of their daily homework routine. Students can earn a Popcorn and Movie party by scoring 100% on their My Path lessons.

What’s happening with Exhibition?

This week, students will draft a written essay summarizing all of their research.

Students will also begin thinking about where to take their projects next. Some students will continue to do research while others might be ready to think about their final presentation or how they can take action. Each student’s exhibition is a personal journey so it may take a different path from someone else’s, and that is ok!

School Uniforms

Our principal and support staff have asked that we monitor student uniforms more closely starting now. Please help me out by making sure your child is in uniform each day, including jackets – which should be solid color blue, black, or Falcon wear. Thank you for your help!
